Essential Video Production Skills for Research Students (Beginners Level) Fully funded Training opportunity for Northern Bridge students – call for expressions of interest

Monday 20th and Tuesday 21st May 2019, London

The 2-day course ‘Essential Video Production Skills for Research Students’ (Beginners Level) enables doctoral students to develop video production skills for research purposes (outputs and presentation). By the end of the course attendees will have developed an understanding of the equipment and techniques required in video production and will have utilised this knowledge to have produced, edited and uploaded a film. The course is for 6 students and will take place in London. Northern Bridge will fund successful applicants to attend.

Feedback from previous attendees has been very positive:

“It was a really well planned course that packed a lot of information and practical activity into a short time. Really inspirational, and an enthusiastic trainer. I couldn’t wait to get home and try out some of the techniques I’d learnt, and I’m really proud of the short films I made.”

“The course was an incredibly comprehensive introduction to video production; the trainer is highly knowledgeable and very engaging in his delivery, which when combined with the small group size and the opportunities to put theory into practice, made for a very inspiring and informative couple of days. I’d recommend it to any WRoCAH student, even those who don’t currently think they’ll be using video, as it opens up new avenues for data gathering and knowledge dissemination.”

“It was inspirational. If the ultimate aim of education is to light a fire rather than fill a bucket, this course managed both. Loads of factual information, skill development and inspiration.”

If you are interested please submit an expression of interest of no more than 200 words, outlining:

- What would be your objectives for undertaking the course and how it will support your wider research training, skills, employability or career development;
- Whether you have any previous experience of film making.
- Confirmation that your supervisory team are aware and approve of your application.

Please submit this by 31 January 2019 to: northernbridge.admin@newcastle.ac.uk

Please note, the facilitators usually ask attendees to bring their own set of headphones/ earphones to the course (we do have spare sets here but often people prefer to use their own) and if you wish to take their footage back with them, please bring a USB stick or drive with them on the second day.
